PHYSICIAN DIES IN AUTO IN BAY ST. LOUIS SUBURBS

Outlook For Securing Natural Gas Is Declared 'Hopeless'

CORRESPONDENCE TELLS EFFORTS AND SURVEYS FOR BRINGING IN GAS

Opinion Expressed at End of Fight For Gas by Bay St. Louis Rotary Club—Valiant Effort By Organization At End—Only Chance is Municipally-Owned Gas Plant, Says President.

It will be recalled members of the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club ,as an organization and headed by President Norton Haas, proven an indefatigable worker in the cause, the past year has exerted every effort to have natural gas extended from the coastal shore of Harrison county over to Bay St. Louis and vicinity.

Rotary Club with a burning zeal and determination to do or die exerted every effort and brought into play every source possible that might help.

This particular fight by the club has come to an end. Sorry to say, it has proven that an outside company to bring gas into this city would not prove practical inasmuch there is not sufficient users and business here to justify such expenditure.

The following communication, addrssed "To the Editor of The Sea Coast Echo," signed by Norton Haas, in capacity President Bay St. Louis Rotary Club, is informative and tells the story in full. It will be noted special thanks are cited to the Mayor, Board City Commissioners "for their splendid backing and co-operation."

Here is President Norton's self-explanatory letter:

"You are familiar with the relentless fight carried on by the Rotary Club for natural gas in Bay St. Louis. You will recall that we were "turned down" by the Southwestern Gas Company at a meeting held at the hotel.

"I communicated with the Jackson Chamber of Commerce, regarding the possibility of securing gas for our town. They contacted Mr. Toler, State Supervisor of Oil and Gas, he suggested that we get in touch with Mr. John Rogers, District Manager of the United Gas Public Service Company, of Jackson. Mr. Wendell W. Black, manager of the Jackson Chamber of Commerce reached Mr. Rogers, and I am enclosing herewith letter from Mr. Rogers, which states that our position is "Hopeless."

"In my opinion it would be difficult to measure the value of natural gas to Bay St. Louis in dollars and cents. If we anticipate any increase in local patronage from the people of New Orleans, I deem it necessary that we continue this "fight" for gas. And of course the convenience of natural gas is worth the "fight." Our only hope seems to be a Municipal Plant, this could be realized by the wholehearted cooperation of the citizens and local authorities.

"In closing this chapter of the "fight" I am pleased to extend, in behalf of the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club, thanks to the Mayor and City Commissioners for their splendid backing an co-operation. I am passing this information to you, so that you might familiarize your readers

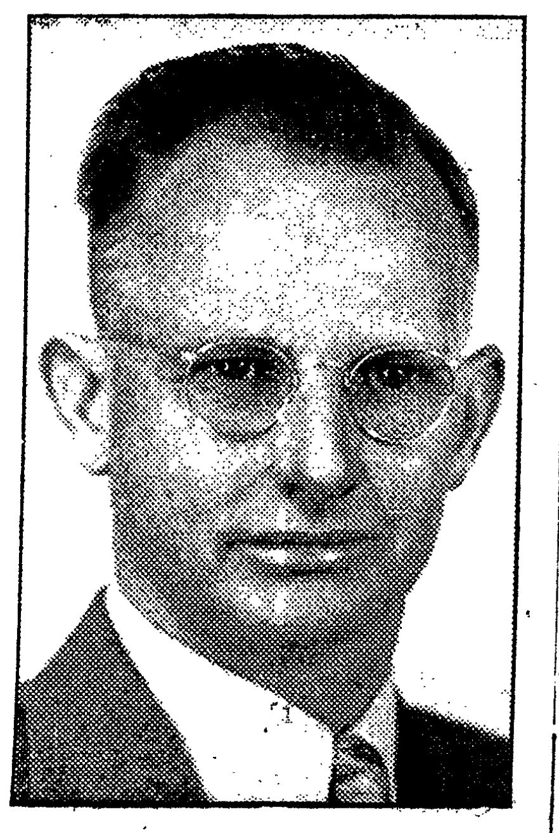
To Celebrate 89th Birthday For Resident Of Hancock County.

Sunday, September 26, promises to be a day of general celebration and an event of general felicitation on the occasion of the 89th birthday of Mrs. Samantha Varnado, resident of Hancock county.

A special committee on arrangement has been formed and this group issues an invitation, cordially inviting all friends and acquaintances as well as relatives to assemble at Lee's Chapel Church for 11 o'clock. There will be a special Sunday service and preaching will mark the occasion.

Later a plate lunch will be served in true picnic style. It is expected all participants are expected to bring a basket of good things to eat and participate in the days' celebration. Mrs. Varnado, nearing her 90th milepost in life is well and widely known and this celebration is given by a special committee in order there may be a general assembly of friends and celebration. No further invitation than this notice in the columns of The Sea Coast Echo will be required.

NOTED REVIVALIST TO VISIT BAY SAINT LOUIS FOR FULL WEEK



THE REV. VAN R. LANDRUM

Speaker in the revival at the Methodist Church, week of September 19-26, Bay St. Louis, Miss.

SCHOOL LUNCH ROOMS

Ten in County Are Serving Daily—Local City School Lunch Project Feeds Two Hundred.

Regular P. T. A. meeting held Tuesday, 3:30 P. M., Sept. 14, 1937, with Mrs. Terry in charge. The meeting was called together by everyone reading the P. T. A. creed.

Miss Loretta Smith, secretary, read the minutes of the summer executive meeting. Mrs. Harold Weston gave the treasurer's report.

Mrs. James Sylvester gave a brief explanaton of the set up covering school lunch rooms and a report of the work done on the P. T. A. lunch room, which is serving lunches to approximately 200 children daily. All members were urged to visit the lunch room at the close of the meeting.

A food shower and cake walk are being planned for the benefit of underprivileged children's lunches.

School lunch rooms are open. Ten county lunch rooms opened and began serving lunches to scohol children this week in Hancock county. They served approximately 450 lunches per day, reaching children who would not have adequate lunch and providing others with lunch for the small amount of 5c per day.

Different methods are being used by the sponsors to secure the additional mony to give the children the very best and wholesome food.

Any school, not serving lunches, that is interested in beginning this most beneficial project may secure information by getting in touch with the county supervisor, Mrs. Mamie Sylvester, Bay St. Louis, Miss.

Mrs. W. S. Speer, vice president and program chairman presented the high spot of the afternoon's program.

A most interesting welcome address by Mrs. C. C. McDonald. She gave in a very pleasing manner some points on Parent-Teacher and Child Relationship.

After Mrs. McDonald's instructive and enthusiastic words, everyone was invited to the Domestic Science room for refreshments and the social hour together of Parents and Teachers.

The P. T. A. heartily welcomed the new teachers and again offered a co-operative hand to those who are to continue their work with school interests.

OYSTER YIELD TO BE BIG

Report From Louisiana Department of Conservation Says Crop Is To Be Bounteous.

More good news for Gulf fishermen and lovers of good eating, says a report based on the oyster crop on the Gulf coastal reefs this year, reported by officials and conservationists—to be bounteous and of unusually high quality.

It "may be the best we ever had," according to the director of the oyster division of the Louisiana Department of Conservation.

The division or fresh water from the Mississippi river through the Bonnet Carree Spillway above New Orleans last spring, the fresh water passing through Lake Pontchartrain and connecting waters into the Gulf, benefitted instead of hurt the oysters.

Too much salt water, or too much fresh water, either, will kill oysters, and the right proportion of fresh water saves the shell to reach the oyster flesh.

That's good news for them, for coast communities profiting from the oyster industry, and for all citizens who love the luscious bi-valves.

FOOTBALL CLINIC TO BE HELD AT STADIUM MONDAY, SEPT. 20.

Sponsored by Sidelines Club —Coach Glover Says '37 Players Will Be A Credit.

St. Stanislaus Sidelines Club will sponsor a football clinic at the stadium next Monday, Sept. 30 free of charge.

The idea is to explain the different college systems in use today.

Attendance at Wednesday night's meeting was very good. Many new members attended.

Next meeting set for Wednesday, Sept. 22.

Season tickets for coming season to go on sale Friday—adults $2.00, children $1.00.

Coach "Wop" Glover told members of the club last Wednesday night that he had a set of boys who will be a credit to Stanislaus and Bay St. Louis.

Bro. William told the club that 111 youngsters were playing on five different teams.

It is evident football will claim a greater interest than ever and this applies to Bay St. Louis. The Sidelines Club has many new members and enthusiasm, backed by work and determination and as well by general co-operation, bespeaks for the greatest of all fooball seasons.

COWAN APPEALS TO INDIVIDUAL TO AID TO SUPPRESS CRIME

Person Owes Government to Assume Responsibility—Addresses Rotary Club.

District Attorney R. C. Cowan, of Gulfport was guest-speaker before the regular meeting of the Rotary Club Wednesday at Hotel Reed. His subject was "The Individual's Responsibility to His Government." He delivered an impressive address, bringing home to his listeners most emphatically their duty to the government, of which they were so muct a part. By way of comparison, he reminded the Rotarians of the united answer given by the citizenry to the call to arms in defense of their country, as to their apparant lack of interest in its defense in the time of peace.

Mr. Cowan presented some very startling figures to show the far reaching effects of crime in the United States. He stated that the combined cost of law enforcement in the country amounted to $10.00 per month per person. This was sufficient proof that each and every individaul should be very much interested in the government. He further stated that the record showed that there was a major crime committed every twenty seconds, and that there were more than four times as many criminals recorded in Washington than the total strength of our standing army. The speaker pointed out that these figures were accepted in most cases by the public, as nothing very serious, some might comment "that nothing could be done about it."

He said, "Yes; it is possible to do something about it if you and every citizen will assume some responsibility in your government, do not sidestep the issue, get in the front ranks of the great peace time army. When you are called for jury service, make it a point to serve. If you are not called for the jury, make some effort to secure a call, take an active part in the execution of this branch of your government. If you do this I assure you that conditions will improve."

Saturday Night At Uncle Charlie's Well-Known Club

This Saturday evening promises another enjoyable evening at Uncle Charlie's Nite Club, Beach Boulevard, Bay St. Louis. High class music adds to the pleasure of dancing. And the well known service and order of this popular nite club makes it a most desirable place to spend the evening. Patrons from along the Coast and from the interior will always find it worth while to take the trip.

MISSISSIPPI FLOATS LEAVE FOR N. Y. PARADE.

CARRYING the message of Mississippi's superlatives in history, recreation, cotton, dairying, and industry, five Mississippi-built floats left Jackson Thursday morning of last week on "the world's longest parade to the world's largest parade" in New York City, September 21st at the American Legion National Convention.

The floats, of modern "streamlined" design, will stop at each state capital on the route to New York for ceremonies at which Miss Russell will present tokens of esteem from Governor White to the governors of the other states.

The floats are built of Mississippi lumber and Masonite strong enough to withstand the gruelling drive.

BEAUTY PAGEANT FOR BAY

Event For October 6.—To Be Sponsored By The Mothers' Club of Local Academy.

An interesting announcement comes from the Mothers' Club of St. Joseph Academy to the effect a Fall Beauty Pageant will be presented for the first time under auspices of the Club at the Academy Gym on the evening of October 6.

There will be three groups. Little girls, older girls and young ladies. Each will be presented in separate divisions and the respective winner of each will be given a loving cup.

There will be no particular requirements or rules as to dress. Each contestant may wear that which she wishes or chooses to look to advantage—either day or evening dress, depending entirely on the wish and inclination of the entree. Style or kind of dress will not figure in the decisions. Beauty will count solely on its merits.

This is the first or initial presentation of the Annual Fall Beauty Pageant and the originators and sponsors plan to make it such success that will be eagerly sought for each year.

Contestants will be sponsored either by a business firm or entered upon individual sponsorship. More details will be given as the plans unfurl and ample publicity will be forthcoming.

NEW RECTOR FOR ST. AUGUSTINE SEMINARY INSTALLED AT OPENING

Of Fifteen Year Session—Enrollment Represents Twenty States—Has 56 Students, 14 Professors—Under Direction Society Divine Word.

St. Augustine's Seminary, Bay St. Louis, Miss., a seminary for colored students aspiring for the priesthood and members of the Society of the Divine Word opned here, Friday, September 10.

The high school and college will have an enrollment of 43 students, and the major seminary will have 13 seminarians in philosophy and theology. Coming from 20 states, the students in the various departments of the seminary are preparing for the priesthood in the Society of the Divine Word. All the classes are conducted by thirteen priests and one lay teacher.

At the opening of the new scholastic year a Solemn High Mass in honor of the Holy Ghost was attended by the student body. The Rev. John Kemper, S. V. D., was celebrant and was assisted by the Rev. Norbert Schuler, S. V. D., and the Rev. William Williams, S. V. D. The seminarians sang the Gregorian chant.

During the summer the Very Rev. John Gasper, S. V. D., was installed as the new rector of St. Augustine's Seminary to succeed the Very Rev. G. Essar, S. V. D., whose term of office ended with the close of the scholastic year.

The seminary, established fifteen years ago by the Society of the Divine Word, has sent six of its members, as colored priests in the colored missions and parish work at Lafayette, La., and one secular priest to be Vicariate of Belize, British Honduras.

At present, besides the 56 students and 14 professors, there are two professed colored brothers, six novices and four postulants.

The seminary is under the direction of the Society of the Divine Word.

'PHONE CABLES PARTED

Waveland Line Damaged by 22-Calibre Rifle in Hands Of Unknown Party.

The heavy lead armor running along the Waveland front and carrying 100-pairs cable, and serving approximately seventy-five subscribers that route of the Bell Telephone Company, was found to be injured and put out of commission at about 6 o'clock Monday evening.

An investigation by Resident Plant Man H. D. Kirkpatrick revealed the cable armor had been perforated in four places with bullets from a 22-rifle and put the service out of commission since the lines were disconnected as a result.

Immediately work was started on the cable and every effort to repair the damage as quickly as possible in order the damage might be repaired.

The damage was estimated at about $50.00 to say nothing of the loss of service and inconvenience experienced by patrons of the system.

An investigation failed to reveal anything definite at this time, however, it was reported a boy had been seen along the beach front in the vicinity where the cables were shot with a 22-calibre rifle in quest of rabbits, even though the game is not sought for in the air. There is a heavy penalty for such law violation of destroying public property and in order there be no recurrence every effort is exerted in order to apprehend the thoughtless offender.

The cables parted are in the vicinity of the Buckley and Singreen residences.

WOMAN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The Woman's Missionary Society will meet at 3 P. M., Tuesday, Sept. 21 at "The Answer" with Mrs. W. L. Bourgeois as hostess.

A number of things of importance are to come up and a full attendance is urged.

DR. GEORGE CULLEN OF GALVESTON VICTIM OF SUDDEN HEART ATTACK

Stricken While Driving Auto Through Local Section En Route to Jacksonville, Fla.—Body Shipped to Des Moines, Iowa—Episcopal Funeral Ceremony.

Visitation of death is sad under any and all circumstance, regardless of anything that might be said, but there are instances where it seems to strike in hardest blow.

Practically sudden and entirely unexpected was the death of Dr. George Cullen, physician and surgeon, who died while traveling over the Old Spanish Trail last Saturday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock, motoring with Mrs. Cullen in one car and a party traveling in a second car—from Galveston and destined to Jacksonville, Florida. The trip was one of business but the party combined pleasure with it as well.

Complains of Illness

Dr. Cullen was driving his own car, a Nash, accompanied by his wife. He suffered from a chronic stomach ailment which, it was said, did not seem to cause him much pain or discomfort. Feeling ill he made it known to his wife and he was tranferred to the second car following, a Chevorlet, occupied by Mr. White L. Moss, and his wife, Mr. Moss driving.

Dies from Heart Attack

Dr. Cullen was seized with heart attack and died after the transfer was made—from one car to the other. This, it is said, was the first heart attack of any kind he had ever complained of.

This occurred two miles out on the O. S. T. from Bay St. Louis.

Assistance was soon forthcoming and the Fahey Undertaking Company removed the body to its establishment, where it was prepared for shipment and subsequent burial at Des Moines, Iowa.

Remains were shipped Sunday evening by train from Gulfport over the I. C., conveyed there overland by the Fahey hearse.

Services of Episcopal Church

Prior to shipment religious services were held at the Fahey Funeral Home in Union street, the Rev. Warwick Aiken, rector of Christ Episcopal Church, Bay St. Louis, of which faith the deceased had been a member.

Prominent in Medical Profession.

The deceased was a native of Ireland, aged 62 years. He was a man of 6-foot stature and weighed over 200 pounds and apparently in the best of health. He was prominently known in the medical profession and was medical examiner for American Life Insurance Company, of Galveston, Texas.

White L. Moss, in whose car Dr. Cullen died, is superintendent of agencies for the American Life Insurance Company of which the doctor was medical examiner. And was traveling accompanied by Mrs. Moss.

The parties left Monday morning, Mr. Moss driving his car and Lew Monti, of Bay St. Louis, driving Mrs. Cullen's car, bound for DesMoines.

Members of the local Episcopal Church and others immediately associated their solicitations with the bereaved and did all possible to make them as comfortable as possible under the trying circumstance.

They were naturally grief stricken and shocked beyond telling, and were grateful in their expressions before leaving.

Prof. George W. Davis To Head Chemistry At "Pearl River Junior."

The vacancy in Chemistry at Pearl River Junior College caused by the resignation of Mr. John S. Kelly, has been filled by the selection of Professor George W. Davis, Tupelo, Mississippi. Professor George W. Davis holds the M. A. degree from the University of Mississippi, and has had successful experience as Science teacher in other State Junior colleges.

After four years teaching in the Junior College at Summit, Mr. Davis was made Dean of Instruction at T. M. I. and Junior College, Tupelo, Miss., later becoming field representatives for Dranghis' Business college, where he served until asked to come to P. R. C. Mr. Davis and family will be given a hearty welcome by the college and the citizens of South Mississippi.

GOV. WHITE'S ADMINISTRATION.

GOV. HUGH WHITE'S campaign promise that, if elected, he would give the State of Mississippi a business adminstration, like other promises, is being filfilled to the letter.

In an address last Saturday in Smith county he pledged to give the people further relief from tax burden. Already this year reducing the levy from eight to four mills ad valorem he pledges to recommend to the Legislature that the levy be reduced to two mills, a fifty per cent redutcion over this year's cut.

He also pledged to recommend to the Legislature that school textbooks be supplied the children of the State without direct charge to them. Of course, in the last analysis, there is no such things as free school books, for someone must pay. However, it will be a great burden lifted and will make for more uniformity if the State (the tax-payers) supplies the books.

And this he promises to do without increased taxation, through other channels and, when his administration of four years will have ended, he says twenty-eight per cent of the State's bonded indebtedness will have been paid.

Magnificent record. Truly a business administration. Any man who can cut the tax levy from 8 to 2 mills, add to old age pensions, retire over twenty-five per cent of the State's indebtedness in a given time is giving the com monwealth a business administration.

This carries its own comment and leaves nothing more to be said.

His promises that he would balance agriculture with industry is a program that is well under way over the State. Mississippi is coming into its own and it took a man of Gov. White's ability and calibre to do so. No politician but a real business man, honest, sincere and of the constructive type that can accomplish such.

IMPORTANT THINGS.

BERNARD M. BARUCH, American financier, recently returned from Europe where he had spent a few weeks. He was somewhat pessimistic about the future peace of the world and little bit anxious lest our neutrality law "get us into war now."

He had a few ideas about domestic things, however, that seem worth noting. In the first place he said that the important thing that confronts America is a solution of the agricultural problem. This, he went on, the people of the East do not realize.

Then, there is the question of wages. When we have inflation, says Mr. Baruch, as we have had, wages must go up or else a workman's real wages decline. The trouble, he continues, is that manufacturers, when they have to pay a 10 per cent increase add 20 per cent to their prices.

Mr. Raruch seems to understand some things.

CAN DEMOCRACY SUCCEED?

THE success of democracy is possible only so long as the welfare of the people, as a whole, is more important than the welfare of any part of the population.

If the government of the United States is to represent the farmers, the laborers, the veterans or the job-holders ano take care of their needs, without much regard to the balance of the taxpayers, the end of the republic of the United States is underway.

This same rule applies to smaller units of democracy. Always there must be concern for the general welfare. Always there must be no vested rights and special interests on the part of minorities or majorities.

NEW INDUSTRY EXPANDING.

Planting of tung trees continues on large scale in southwest Mississippi and the adjacent Louisiana territory. The new industry will prove a big feeder to the success of this section and enhance lands value to permanent extent.

BOOST LOCAL ATHLETICS.

Local athletics offer a wide field for diversion and healthful and wholesome entertainment to say nothing of the value and encouragement patronage means to the efforts of the huskies who make for the athletics.

THE WATER'S FINE.

President Roosevelt's fourth and the last of his bachelor sons announces his engagement, to be married after his graduation from Harvard next June. His brothers must have said, "Come in, the water's fine!"

The present is one of the best seasons of the year on the Mississippi Gulf Coast. How much and how well do we realize it?

Whether we realize it or not, business is affected by every disturbance of world peace. How can China or Spain buy goods when people are too busy fighting to work?

Every individual citizen of Bay St. Louis can have a part in the beautification of our community. If everyone of us would take some positive steps along this line, it wouldn't be long before even strangers would notice the difference.

ONE HUNDRED MORE HOUSES FOR BAY ST. LOUIS.

DURING the course of a well-timed and optimistic editorial from the New Orleans Item, headed, "Good For Gulfcoast," in which tribute is paid to the wise and able administration of Mississippi's wide-awake and progressive governor, who has just announced a slash in the State's tax levy, and recommends a further reduction for next year, that afternoon newspaper, ever a friend of this section, says: "This step, and the further reductions to be anticipated from retirement of existing debts should make living on the Gulfcoast as cheap as anywhere else under less attractive conditions."

"As this is attained," says the Item, 'the Coast is going to find itself populated by a great many more full-timed residents, commuters, and part-time dwellers from other States. There is no reason, for instance, why five or six hundred more homes of various classes should not rear themselves in a place like Bay St. Louis, for instance, in a short time."

RIGHT now there is a shortage of dwellings in Bay St. Louis that is acutely felt and this is best revealed by the house hunter. The number of modern and habitable homes for rent are at a premium. The good ones are occupied. When we say good ones we include such considerations as location, desirability of neighborhood and accessibility to things that are essentially central.

Many houses are vacant because the landlord refuses to spend a penny, and may they remain empty till doomsday; and there are houses of where right-living people and their children refuse to endure the incongruities that exist and menace to health. Too many old houses, dark and gloomy, lacking proper ventilation, sanitary equipment and general equipment as every perfectly white decent person not only requires but demands. Modern houses of medium size for rent in Bay St. Louis today are far and few between, relics of other days; monstrosities of the past that are patched and offer none of the modern conveniences.

With the new era apparently at hand in Mississippi with reduced taxes, there will be an increased demand for many things, of these elements none more potential than the building of at least a hundred or more of ultra modern houses for live and progressive people; the successful ones and the willing and who do pay rent.

However, a further reduction in taxes, will make such investments more profitable than at present. More buildings will mean for the sale of more material, more work for labor and a general rejuvenation for normal conditions.

The Echo pins its faith to Bay St. Louis and vicinity.

GROWING AVOCADOS IN THIS SECTION.

THE New Orleans press of Monday evening and Tuesday morning carried a story of growing avocados to a successful commercial consummation that will prove of substantial interest and possibly new industry that will add to the Louisiana down-the-river section so near to our own Mississippi.

Plaquemine Parish, noted for its alluvial soil, where oranges and other semi-tropical fruit yield to abundance, comes to the front this week by a resident and grower of that section.

Andrew Lobrano, a grower in the Buras orange region, is the first to successfully produce avocados in quality and quantity that make for successful commercial exploitation.

Mr. J. M. Chalona, of the firm of Jos. Chalona & Co., successful orange growers at Buras, called the attention of the avocados production to New Orleans, where an ever-ready market is waiting, and expresses himself enthusiastically over the prospects for the new crop.

Eight years ago Lobrano purchased avocados from a New Orleans market and after eating the fruit decided to plant a seed.

The tree grew rapidly. Three years ago he planted 11 other seeds, and when the seedlings were a year old he used on them the same budgrafting process that he had been using on his orange trees. This cut the length of maturity in half, he said.

About 12 bushels of fruit is the yield Lobrano expects from his first tree. There are about 50 avocados to the bushel.

If it develops into a profitable form of agriculture, the Plaquemines parish fruit will come on the market at an ideal time, Mr. Chalona said.

"The Cuban fruit comes on the market about mid-June and is through just about the time the Plaquemines fruit comes in. The Florida fruit comes in about October 1 and has a very short season, lasting about a month and a half," he said. "The Plaquemines fruit then will have a full month when markets in the South and along the Atlantic seaboard are virtually bare of avocados."

Health for school children is important. Parents should see that physical handicaps are not causing their children to suffer undue penalties at school.

THIS ODOR DOES NOT SMELL TO HEAVEN.

Bogalusa, La., is an outstanding example of what industry will do for a community. The odor of paper mills vile compared to that of shrimp and oyster factory, but no one seems to notice it.

COVINGTON'S NEW P. O.

A spacious and handsome postoffice building is in course of construction at Covington, La. Quite a transition it will prove from the present quarters, a veritable dingy hole in the wall looking affair. Another example of things coming to he who waits—if you wait long enough.

WHAT THE PRESS IS SAYING OF MEN AND MATTERS IN EDITORIAL EXPRESSION

GOOD FOR GULFCOAST.

(N. O. Item.)

GOVERNOR WHITE'S announcement that Mississippi's eight-mill property tax is reduced to four will be matter for rejoicing all over the State, and for congratulation elsewhere.

But in our judgment, no part of Mississippi is in position to profit quite so much by it as the Gulfcoast. For it strikes heavily at the worst bar to general settlement on the Coast by commuters and more distant persons who would like to settle there.

A mild boom took place there during the twenties, a reflection of what was going on in Florida and California before the Panic of 1929 plunged all regions alike into a long depression. Eighty or ninety millions of dollars must have been invested in public utilities and private projects to fit the Coast to be the tourist-resort and dwelling-area that its exceptional natural attractions entitle it to be.

PRIVATE enterprises took form in fine hotels, golf courses, swimming pools, piers, and the like. Very heavy investments were made by the State, the cities, and the counties in modern highways, fine bridges, seawalls, parks, waterworks, schools and other improvements.

These were built and have been supported by taxation. The tax-rates naturally rose correspondingly. But the Coast now has the basis utilities of this nature, which it formerly lacked, to attract private promotion for its general advance as a place for dwelling and resort.

The combined state and local taxes thus became too high to make home-owning attractive to every class from other parts. But they have been gradually coming down as the bills for local and county improvements have been paid. Retirement of large amounts of burdensome public securities is in sight to reduce the levies still farther.

THE state's general property tax has been one of the biggest factors in the total bill of the home-owner and the business man. Halving it will bring some real relief,—especially if ill-considered enterprises not really needed are avoided in order to hold the gain. This step, and the further reductions to be anticipated from retirement of existing debts, should make living on the Gulfcoast as cheap as anywhere else under less attractive conditions.

As this is attained the Coast is going to find itself populated by a great many more full-time dwellers from other states. There is no reason, for instance, why five or six hundred more homes of various classes should not rear themselves in a place like Bay St. Louis, for instance, in quite a short time. The new money these would bring would expand local business and share the tax-paying, provide for such additions and renewals in the public utilities as may be genuinely needed to take care of community growth.

TAX REDUCTION

(Biloxi News)

MISSISSIPPIANS who are property owners received very welcome news from Jackson in announcement from Governor Hugh L. White that the levy would be reduced from 8 to 4 mills. This reduction, effective on State taxes due on or before the first of February, 1938, will mean a saving of $1,700,000 to taxpayers.

Governor White was severely criticized by his enemies for ordering the eight-mill levy restored for 1937. Many thought that he was doing the wrong thing and that property holders already had too much taxes to pay. However it can be seen that Governor White, though being enterprising, was at the same time being conservative, in that he wanted to be certain that the State would not slip back into debt because of lack of revenues. However the State's treasury now shows that is well able to take care of the current needs as well as take care of an expected $6,000,000 increase in appropriations anticipated for the next two years.

As we see it, Governor White has applied the same strict business principles which have made him a successful business man and progressive industrialist. That is something we have not found in a governor of the State in many years.

Further good news is contained in Governor White's announcement which informs Mississippians and others that during his 4-year term of office the State will have retired $10,000,000 in bonds, or 25 per cent of the State's total indebtedness. This is a record also to be proud of.

Mississippi is now on the right track to become one of the leading States in the entire nation. The thing we must guard against is the danger of being derailed or sidetracked by propogandists, who are over zealous or overly ambitious.

REPEAL SALES TAX? NEVER!

(Jackson News)

THE executive order slashing Mississippi's ad valorem tax from eight to four mills for the current year means that those folks who are waging a campaign for repeal of the sales tax may as well forget about it. They won't get to first base.

It took Chancellor V. J. Sticker less than a minute to deny a plea of attorneys for a freight truck line that the law requiring such concerns to apply for permit to operate in Mississippi is unconstitutional, and that truck lines must pay penalty of $50 per day for operating without license. Rigid enforcement of that law will bring more than a quarter of a million dollars into the treasury. Why truck line owners think they should be permitted to tear up our highways and pay very little for repairs or maintenance is just a bit hard to understand.

RESIGNS

Edward F. McGrady, who resigned as Assistant-Secretary of Labor, to take charge of labor relations for the Radio Corporatoin of America, has been the "trouble-shooter" for the Administration in many labor disputes. In his new work, he will be available for use under special circumstances.

WHEREVER YOU CHOOSE--AND WHEN

YOUR VACATION—whether it be short or long, strenuous or lazy, on sea or land, at mountain or seashore, full of frolic or study, inexpensive or otherwise—will cost you money.

Saving for it, by little and little, during a number of weeks, a year in advance, will furnish you the required sum to spend whenever and wherever you choose to go.

The Railroad Problem
. . . and You!

To the Public:

September 14, 1937

THE Association of American Railroads has successfully shown through a series of advertisements during the past year that the railroads remain the outstanding transportation industry of the Country. It has shown that they are dependable and progressive; are necessary agencies of distribution in times of peace, and of defense and offense in times of war; and that not only are a million people directly employed by them, but that the life of virtually every citizen is in one way or another affected by their service.

The impression has been gained by some that all railroads are prosperous. This is partly true of only a very few. The reverse is true for the industry as a whole. In 1936 when the depression was over, the Net Income of all railroads was $164,630,000. This was the amount available for improvements, reduction of debt, and dividends; yet even in that year railroads operating 38% of the country's total mileage had no net income at all, and about 30% were in the hands of receivers or trustees.

Now, what is the situation for 1937? The Net Income, which in 1936 was $164,630,000, is subject in 1937 to the following adverse influences, which are already in effect:

Loss of emergency freight rates, authorized during depression by Interstate Commerce Commission, and cancelled December 31, 1936, which produced in 1936 revenues amounting to	$150,000,000
Estimated increased cost over 1936 of materials and supplies being used in 1937	125,000,000
Estimated increased charges over 1936 of Social Security and Retirement taxes for 1937	59,000,000
Wage increases granted certain employes of 14 non-operating brotherhoods, August 1, 1937, costing about $98,000,000 per year; estimated effect on year 1937	41,000,000
	$375,000,000

These four items total $375,000,000, which is $210,370,000 greater than the entire net income of 1936. For the railroads to break even in 1937, they must, in view of the foregoing loss of revenue and added expense, handle nearly 30% more traffic than they did in 1936. The actual increase in carloadings for the first eight months of 1937 compared with 1936 was only 11.9%.

In addition to the above, the following items of increased cost are pending:

Demand of five operating brotherhoods for 20% increase in wages, equal per year to	$116,000,000
Proposed law, sponsored in Congress (the bill has already passed the Senate) by certain railroad labor organizations, limiting the length of freight trains to 70 cars, which would add annually to railroad expense	100,000,000
Total	$216,000,000

This figure added to the $375,000,000 above, makes the huge total of $591,000,000 per year, or three and one-half times greater than the actual net income of 1936.

It is self-evident to any thinking person, therefore, that with such additional burdens imposed on the railroads, a serious situation exists. One of two things is inevitable: Either higher freight and passenger rates must be obtained to offset these increases, or practically all the remaining roads will be bankrupt. This means that the living expenses of every citizen will be higher through increased cost of transportation, or there will be government ownership, with its consequent ills—heavier taxes to pay the cost of buying the railroads, loss of taxes now paid by the railroads, inefficient service and annual deficits to be made up by additional taxation.

In either case, the welfare of the public, as well as that of the railroads, is at stake. Nothing can be done about the increased burdens already in effect amounting to $375,000,000, except to the extent that increased rates may be granted by the Commission. There is still time, however, to prevent the pending increases of $216,000,000, but to do so imperatively requires the strong influence of public expression against such demands. The railroads have refused the demands of the five operating brotherhoods for increased wages; the issue may reach a fact-finding commission appointed by the President of the United States. The Train Limit bill is pending in the House, and will likely be given prompt attention by Congress next January.

The citizens of this country are so vitally affected by these two questions that they should oppose them in every reasonable way.

Further details of these and other railroad matters will be discussed in future statements.

MISSISSIPPI GULF COAST REGION IS FISHERMEN'S PARADISE YEAR ROUND

Outstanding Fact That Nearly Two Hundred and Fifty Years of Constant Fishing the Fish Life of The Mississippi Gulf Coast is But Little Diminished —Notable Fishing Places.

By John T. Connell
(Biloxi News.)

No coastal region of the United States has been fished to such an extent and for such a period of time as te Mississippi Gulf Coast. Since d'Iberville first saw its shores and built Fort Maurepas in 1699, the people of this region have largely drawn their livelihood from the sea and coastal streams; it is an outstanding fact that after nearly two hundred and fifty years of constant fishing the fish life of the Mississippi Gulf Coast is but little diminished. This amazing wealth of fish life comes as a result of the abundant fish food in our waters.

The three- million-acre Louisiana Marshes, the greatest spawning ground of shrimp, crabs, squids, and more than two hundred varieties of fish in the entire world, pours into the Mississippi Sound and up the more than twenty rivers of the Coast such an abundant supply of fish food that the Mississippi Gulf Coast maintains its constant supply of fish for the enjoyment of visiting fishermen.

One of the attractive features of Coast fishing, from a practical fishingerman's point of view, is its ACCESSIBILITY. Visiting fishermen may easily, at a very moderate expense, reach the fishing grounds for both fresh water and deep-sea sport; and the object of this discussion is to give the visitor such practical and explicit directions as will enable him to get his trips arranged with the least loss of time.

The fisherman's geography of this region is peculiar to the Mississippi Coast, there being nothing comparable to it on any of the seacoasts of the country. Between Pascagoula on the east and Bay St. Louis on the west, a distance of less than fifty miles, the waters of thirty rivers enter the Mississippi Sound; and in this area of fifty miles wide and forty miles long, the mileage of magnificent bass streams is incredible. There are more than one thousand miles of bass streams easily accessible from Highways 90 and 49.

Because of the "run" of small fish and crustaceans from the Mississippi Sound up all the Coast rivers, bass are constantly traveling down stream to reach this abundant food. Thus, the well-known and convenient fishing camps on all the rivers are never "fished out" but are constantly renewed by the migration of fish from the upper reaches of the rivers.

The rivers of the Coast group themselves into a few great "river systems"; and consequently, it is seldom during the entire year that clear water cannot be found in one or more of these river basins.

Pascagoula River System

West Pascagoula River, East Pascagoula River, Bluff Creek (River), Creole Bayou, Crooked Bayou, Soukes Bayou, Mary Walker Bayou, Red Creek (River), Black Creek (River), White Creek (River), Escatawpa River, Brushy Creek, Rock Creek (River), Bouie River.

Each of these tributary rivers has a "system" of its own; and, at many points tributaries of different rivers merge into intricate networks of small bayous. Running through a section of dense swamps and savannahs, the Pascagoula System of rivers constitutes one of the greatest freshwater breeding and fishing grounds in the United States.

Visitors are warned not to go extensively into this region without a competent native guide.

Fortunately some of the choicest fishing is to be had in the lower ten miles of the system.

For Escatawpa and East Pascagoula, take off at Moss Point north of Pascagoula on Highway 90.

For the lower reaches of West Pascagoula River, Mary Walker Bayou, Soukes Bayou, Crooked Bayou, Creole Bayou and Bluff Creek, kick off in outboard motor from Gautier on Highway 90.

Bluff Creek, Creole Bayou, Crooked Bayou, the Poticaw district of Pascagoula River may be reached easily from Lucas Landing on the Pascagoula. Turn off Highway 90 one mile west of Gautier, take the Vancleave Road leading north for three miles; take country road on right for three miles to Lucas' home.

Bayou Gravalene

The most noted salt water bayou on the Mississippi Coast. Good Speckled Sea Trout, Redfish (Channel Bass), Croaker and Drum fishing. One mile and a half west of Gautier on Highway 90.

Fort Bayou

Empties into Bay of Biloxi at Ocean Springs. Good Bass fishing and excellent Sea Trout fishing in Fall and Winter. Take boat at the Fort Bayou Bridge.

Biloxi River System

Big Biloxi, Little Biloxi River, Fritz Creek Tchoutacabouffa River, Tuxachanie River. All these streams are easily reached from Biloxi and Gulfport by excellent hardsurfaced roads.

Wolf River System

Wolf River, Arcadia Bayou, Bayou DeLislt, Bayou de Plane. Reached from any point on the Coast via Long Beach or Pass Christian.

Jordan River System

Jordan River, Bayou LaCroix, Rotten Bayou. Reached from every point on the Coast via Long Beach Pass Christian, Kiln or Bay St. Louis.

Pearl River System.

Similar in extent to the Pascagoula system. Famous Honey Island Swamp. Reached from Bay St. Louis at Pearlington. Logtown, Gainesville. Do not attempt trip without guide.

All these streams will furnish excellent Large Mouth Bass, Kentucky Bass, Barfish, Goggle Eye, Crappie and Bream fishing with the finest of Speckled sea trout fishing in Fall and Winter.

With artificial bait or fly, fish on a falling tide. With natural bait, fish a rising tide.

NEW ORLEANS BAY ST. LOUIS RESIDENT IS CLAIMED BY DEATH.

William A. Montgomery Buried at Durant, Miss.—Was Firm Believer in Bay City.

William A. Montgomery, well-known resident of New Orleans and of Bay St. Louis as well, owner of considerable property in Sycamore street, near beach boulevard, passed away at his winter home in New Orleans Sunday morning at 7:45 o'clock, in his 73rd year.

He was ill for quite a while and had retired from business activities, well known in the hotel business at New Orleans, which his wife, Mrs. Mary J. Montgomery carried on to most successful results, well known as a business woman.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by two daughters, Mrs. C. R. Noble and Mrs. Robert S. Ralston, who reside away, and children by a former marriage.

Remains were conveyed from New Orleans to Durant. Miss., where funeral ceremony and interment took place Monday morning.

Mr. Montgomery was well and widely known. He was quite a booster for Bay St. Louis and both he and his wife gave material evidence of their faith in this community by their real estate investments, not buying for speculation but as bona fide investment, building dwellings of a better kind that prove an acquisition to the better housing proposition of Bay St. Louis.

Mrs. Montgomery, who is prominently connected in both cities, Bay St. Louis and New Orleans, has the sympathy of a wide circle of friends and acquaintances.

TEACHERS.

More men are teaching school than at any time in sixty years, according to the Federal Office of Education, which says that in 1934, 19.1 per cent of teachers were men. Forty per cent of the male teachers had high school jobs. As business improves, the men are epected to leave teaching work faster than the women to accept better jobs in private employment.

"MOUNTAIN MUSIC" PROVES SMASH COMEDY HIT

I like mountain music—you like mountain music—everybody likes "Mountain Music" to be at the A. & G. Theater, Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday, with those two arch-fiends of merry madness, Bazookin' Bob Burns and Martha the Ultra-Violent Raye, in their first co-starring roles.

"Mountain Music" is a comedy—"Mountain Music" is a musical—"Mountain Music" is— just about everything you want in a picture! It's colossal, it's tremendous, it's swell, it's the nuts!

"Mountain Music" is the story of a couple of feudin' families in the hills. They've patched up the feud and Bob, son of one clan, is preparing to marry Terry Walker, the daughter of his enemies. Bob doesn't want to marry—he doesn't love Terry, and knows that his brother played by John Howard, does.

Bob ducks out of the marriage, pursued by the guns of Terry's kinfolk, and disappears. Folks around think that Howard has killed him and toss Howard into clink, charged with the murder.

In the meantime, Bob, who suffers periodically from amnesia, has lost his memory, and, in a strange city, meets Martha Raye. They fall for each other, Martha, from papers which Bob found, imagining that he is a wealthy man. Martha and Bob go to a large city, planning to marry—but two things happen: First, they discover that Bob is not the wealthy man he is supposed to be, and then, they meet Terry, who is searching for Bob to prove Howard's innocence. As they meet Terry, Bob gets hit with a bucketfull of water which snaps him out of his amnesia, and the trio rush back home, to try to save Howard.

From that point on, the fun waxes fast and furious. Picture rowdy Martha Raye in the middle of a hillbilly courtroom, and you've got a vague idea. By a combination of more lung-power than any three women are supposed to have, and a good old fireman's hose, she cleans up the trouble, and our last sight of the two happily-loving couples, Bob and Martha, and John Howard and Terry Walker, is of them strollin' down the road, singing at the top of their lungs. And when one of those pairs of lungs belongs to Martha Raye—boy, you sure got something there!

"Mountain Music" was directed by Robert Foley.

NOVELTY IN THE NEWS.

Santa Passes Up Hattiesburg Anent New School Building.

Santa Claus has come and gone and Hattiesburg missed out on getting a new high school building.

These were words of Roland Well, acting WPA administrator of Mississippi, in an address before the Lions Club at Hattiesburg. The club invited him here to hear his version of chances of Hattiesburg's securing a new high school building.

He flatly stated that no assistance—financial or otherwise, could be given by the WPA for erection of a new structure there.

Wall said also that with trimming of WPA appropriations and workmen rolls the responsibility of caring for the destitute, aged and unemployed is being dumped back into the laps of the communities.

Anger At Cook Costs Life Of Aged Cafe Owner.

An Associated Press special from Spokane, Wash., says that William Falhaber, 68-year-old cafe owner, died of rage because his cook insisted on drinking coffee from the saucer, Deputy Coroner T. C. Barnhart said.

The cook dashed into police headquarters last night. Frantically he told officers his employer—"awful mad" because he wouldn't keep his spoon in the cup and preferred to saucer his coffee—had grabbed a shotgun and chased him from the restaurant.

Police found Halhaber dead behind the counter, still gripping the gun. Barnhart said his anger caused heart failure.

FREE ADVERTISING.

By CLAYTON RAND.

A chamber of commerce boasts in its annual report of the "free advertising" it had obtained—THOUSANDS of dollars worth of it.

A public official points with pride to a bulletin board plastered with "free advertising"—couldn't have been bought at any price."

A publicity shark displays a scrapbook of "free advertising" he has collected to impress a client.

There is really no such thing as "free advertising," and when these buzzards brag about it, ask them how much goods the free stuff really sold.

"Free Advertising" is the bunk and the sooner folks find out that advertising that's worth anything costs something, there will be less wastebasket stuff for the rats to gnaw at and nest in.

Lady (meekly)—I ought to; I've been a school teacher for twenty years.

GOV. WHITE TO SEEK SCHOOL TEXTBOOKS FOR CHILDREN OF STATE

Will Make Recommendation to Legislature in January—Will Seek to Further Cut State Tax Levy From 4 to 2 Mills—In Addition Will Reduce State Debt Without Other Taxation.

Although cutting the State tax levy from 8 to four mills for this year, Governor Hugh White of Mississippi, declared in a public speech made at Mize, in Smith county, last Saturday, that not only would he ask the Legislature next January to make it possible for the State to supply all school children with textbooks free from cost to them, but that he planned to further reduce the State tax levy to 2 mills.

Slashing the State tax down to 2 mills—a 50 per cent reduction over what it will be for 1937—and said that during his four year administration the State of Mississippi would have retired its bonded indebtedness by 28 per cent.

Friend of the Aged.

In addition he said he would also ask that old age assistance be doubled, and that the salaries of school teachers be raised on an average of $10 per month.

Nothwithstanding these suggested increased appropriations, unprecedented debt payments and tax reductions, Governor White asserted that the state treasury even then would be left with a cash surplus of $2,000,000 when he went out of office.

The property tax this year was eight mills; the governor only recently reduced the 1937 payments in 1936 assessments to four mills, the lowest rate authorized under the flexible rate. He would have the next Legislature fix the flexible rate at from one to six mills, and if treasury conditions warranted the rate would be reduced to one mill before he went out of office.

Would Extend Roads

The present flexible rate ranges from four to eight mills.

Besides, he told the Smith countians, the governor is working on an extension of the $42,500,000 road paving program, so that every one of the state's 82 counties would participate in the paving projects. There are seven counties now which were left out of the current program including Marion, the home county of the governor.

"I promised you, when asking for the office, to give you an eight-month school term, and you now have it," pointed out Governor White.

"We can obtain these new advantages and keep well within the proposed budget," he promised.

The address was delivered at a three-way celebration down in Smith county—the taking over by the state for maintenance of State Highway No. 20, the opening of a bank at Mize, and the county's comprehensive forest fire control and conservation program. Highway Director E. D. Kenna and State Forester Fred B. Merrill accompanied the governor.

"With this program I will have completed every promise contained in my gubernatorial platform," said Governor White.

"I promised better pay for the teachers and they will get it if it is within my power.

May Boost Pension

"I promised that if conditions warranted you would get free school books.

"I promised old age pensions and gave them to you and will now recommend that the present amount being received be doubled." The old age assistance now totals an average of $4 per month including federal aid. It would be raised to an average of $8.

The granting of free textbooks, something advocated by many citizens for years—more especially at this time of the year when parents are buying new sets for their children—would depend on the outcome of a lawsuit now pending in Sunflower county, said the governor.

The State Textbook Commission, named by the governor, is seeking to contract with the American Book Company for a new set of English textbooks for certain grades in the schools. Governor White has refused to sign the contract, on the grounds that the books would cost more than those now in use.

The book company recently brought suit in Sunflower county, legal residence of J. S. Vandiver, State superintendent of education, seeking to require him to certify to all of the schools the use of the new textbooks.

"If this suit brings about the use of those books for five years, it would delay the coming of free textbooks," said Governor White.

He said he had been advised that it would require an appropriation of $700,000 to inaugurate free textbooks in Mississippi.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS.

Sealed bids will be received by the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, and the said Bids to be delivered to the Clerk of this Board not later than 11:00 o'clock A. M., on Monday, October 4th, 1937, for the hire or purchase of one caterpillar tractor weighing not less than four and one-half tons and equipped with Diesel engine capable of burning heavy crude oil and having separate starting engine. If outright purchase is not made, the Board proposes to hire this tractor for a period of fifteen months or less with the contract hire price to be paid in a jump sum in advance for the entire time hired, or to be paid in advance monthly or quarterly, as the Board may elect to do. The company furnishing this tractor will be required to give the County an option on this tractor so that if the Board desires, same can be purchased during, or immediately at expiration of hire period, with at least ninety-seven percent of all money paid for hire to be credited against the original purchase price.

The Board reserves the right to reject and and all bids.

Given under my hand and seal of office, this the 9th day of September, A. D. 1937.

(SEAL) A. G. FAVRE, Clerk.

NOTICE METHODISTS.

Bay St. Louis Methodist Church has come to the time set for a Revival Meeting. We are looking forward to this Season, in that it may be a far reaching Spiritual awakening. May we be fully ready for this series of special services. Rev. Van R. Landrum, Pastor of the Methodist Church at Poplarville, Miss., will preach each day beginning Sunday, Sept. 19, and continuing through Sunday, Sept. 26. Rev. David M. Ulmer, Pastor of Bessie Shands Methodist Church in Jackson, Miss., will lead the singing: The services each Sunday will be at 11 A. M. and 7:30 P. M.; and each week day services at 9 A. M. and 7:30 P. M.

An invitation is extended to each and everyone to come and bring their friends. May we work and pray that this may be a great revival. Come early to each service and take part in the singing. Mail an Invitation-Card to your friends, and speak with your neighbors and help to advertise the Revival. Be on time at the Church School Sunday at 10 A. M., and remain for the sermon.

ANDREW J. BOYLES, Pastor.

Tuesday Amateur nite at the Gulf Theatre was largely attended. Mr. Martin Blanchard was master of ceremonies and Mr. Templet was all set with his microphone and paraphernalia. Waveland boys Robert and Jerome Henley and Jahn Fayard were winners of the first prize $10.00; Jimmy Ladner of Lakeshore and his cowboy ramblers, Ivy Ladner, Curtis Ladner and Victor Green 2nd prize, $5.00; Victor Carver of Bay St. Louis, 3rd prize $2.00; Eleanor Bourgeois, Waveland 4th prize, $1.00; Roy Herron, Jack Creel and Leonard Mosely, 5th prize, $1.00; and Little Grace and Betty Osoinach, passes for two weeks to the show.

A new series of amateur nite started after awarding prizes. Particiuants were Floyd Yarborough, the Singing Cowboy of Gulfport, first place; Gloria Benigno, acrobat, second place; and Cecelia Osoinach, classic dancer, third place.

Mr. Ortte invites and urges all amateurs to come out and try for the prizes. Any sort of talent has a chance, and after all it is lots of fun for everyone.

P. S.—Mr. Blanchard sang, "I'm Glad Your'e Dead You Rsacal, You!"

GULF THEATER TO PRESENT TWO GREAT SPECTACULAR FILMS.

"Captain Calamity" and "Killers of the Sea" Two Thrilling Features in Color.

The Gulf Theater management is proud to announce that Sunday and Monday, Sept. 19 and 20, it has secured two great pictures of the sea and the like of which has never been seen before.

The first feature will be "Captain Calamity" starring George Ruston and Marion Davies, with Vince Barnett. Film in gorgeous natural colors, with the new Hirlicolor process, which re-produces with amazing fidelity the brilliant hues of ocean views and the dusk lights and shadows of the tropical background, it has become First National's hit of the season.

George Ruston, singing star of the pictures, is the fortunate finder of a Spanish doubloon, and when he displays it he unwittingly starts a fight among traders to obtain it and more of the same kind. From here on action takes the lead role, rival captains make hasty repairs to join in the big race for lost Spanish money; traders pay huge sums in order to charter out-going schooners. Crews turn into pirates. Anything to obtain some information concerning the whereabouts of this Spanish loot.

The trail leads to the South Seas and among the islands there known for their beauty. Under this spell of glorious moonlight, tropical skys, it is impossible for two lovers to resist the call, and our singing star, George Ruston, and lovely Marion Davies enter into a romantic pact.

With the new Hirlicolor in place of the black and white background, a new kind of effect is gotten from the surrounding scenery, and one may catch the full beauty of the tropics in all their glory.

Second Feature Film

The second feature of the evening brings an even greater sea adventure, with Captain Wallace Casewell, Jr., playing the leading role. "Killers of the Sea" is something new, something different, yet thrilling, exciting in cinema fare.

The picture is an epic of glorious sea adventure with that celebrated man of steel, Captain Casewell, Jr. For a number of years the captain has earned high acclaims as a fighter of sea monsters. Armed with only a steel blade knife, a coil of rope and his muscles of steel he dives to give battle to the creatures of the deep.

He considers all members of the fish family his enemies and is ready, willing and able to battle all comers. In "Killers of the Sea" he encounters such enemies as the fierce tiger shark, the rapacious saw fish, the dreaded manta and the giant rayfish. He also stages combat with the deadly octopus or devil fish single handed.

This picture is not just a narrative, but one with an interesting plot of a deadly water front feud. The playing is excellent and extra good entertainment guaranteed.

MARY AT THE TEMPLE GATE.

When Mary passed the temple-gate,
Up, up, the long, wire stair,
With God within she sealed her fate,
And gave her soul most fair.

When on each step went Mary's feet,
So white, so sweet and small,
Her heart with holy love complete,
Gave to her Lord her all.

When gazed she through her golden veil,
It fell upon a sheep;
She patted it with fingers pale,
And put it quick asleep.

When through the temple portals
wide,
Mary quite slowly made her way,
She clasped unto her breast to hide,
A pigeon white that day.

So Mary goes with us to pray'r,
Into her Son's sweet place;
She would each child its burden
share,
And tender it with Grace.

LOVELY AND ACCOMPLISHED YOUNG LADY OF BAY ST. LOUIS MARRIES ATTORNEY.

AN interesting marriage was quietly celebrated on Sunday, September 5, when Miss Joan Mauffray, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph O. Mauffray, of Bay St. Louis, became the bride of Mr. Ernest Edward Dematatis, of Washington, D. C.

The ceremony was performed at the rectory of the Church of Our Lady of the Gulf, the Very Rev. A. J. Gmelch, pastor, performing the beautiful and simple ceremony in the presence of members of the immediate family. Attendants were Miss Elsie Mauffray and Mr. Curry Garner, sister and brother-in-law respectively of the bride.

A family assembly at the Mauffray home in Main street followed the ceremony, after which Mr. and Mrs. Dematatis left on brief bridal trip.

The groom is a well-known young man, a member of the legal fraternity. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Dematatis, of Washington, D. C., and is a graduate of the University of Mississippi and of Georgetown University Law School at Washington.

The bride is a graduate of St. Joseph Academy, Bay St. Louis and also of the University of Mississippi.

Mr. and Mrs. Dematatis later plan to make their home at Washington.

MRS. W. L. BOURGEOIS' LOVELY RECEPTION AND TEA TO TEACHERS.

Mrs. W. L. Bourgeois was hostess Thursday afternoon at a reception and tea, complimenting six out-of-town members of the Central School faculty, entertaining over one hundred guests from 4 to 6 o'clock, in the dining and reception rooms of The Answre.

The spacious and inviting interior had been effectively decorated in pink and green, Rosa Montana blossoms in caressing garlands spread tastefully on every side, particularly on and over the long dining table, the latter containing a large center piece of dahlias of size and color.

Mrs. C. A. Breath, Jr., and Mrs. Douglas Bourgeois poured tea, while Miss Abbie Bourgeois served sandwiches and cake.

Mrs. Bourgeois was assisted in receiving by Mrs. Gus Terry, president Central School P.-T. A., and Mrs. Leo W. Seal.

This lovely and largely-attended party was given in compliment to the following-named member of Central School faculty and who come from away; gesture one of welcome to the young women; including Miss Ione Titsworth, of Shelbyville, Ky.; Miss Ruby King, of Mississippi Delta; Miss Clara Reid, Starkville, Miss.; Miss Elizabeth Smith, Vicksburg, Miss.; Miss Leverne Temple, Meridian, Miss., and Miss Helon Newsom of Columbia, Miss.

BAY ST. LOUIS YOUTH MARRIES AT CATHOLIC CHURCH, VIOLET, P. O.

Mr. Edmond A. Blaie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raphael J. Blaize, of Bay St. Louis, and Miss Lillian Henderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Henderson of New Orleans and Violet, La., were married at the Catholic church at Violet, Sunday morning, September 5, 1937, at 11 o'clock, in the presence of a number of friends and acquaintances. The ceremony was impressive and beautiful and the bride and groom were attended by the usual groomsmen and bridesmaid, etc. The church was decorated with a profusion of cut flowers for the happy occasion. The ceremony was performed by the pastor of the church.

Mr. Blaize, of Bay St. Louis, is a valued attachee of the Dunbar-Dukate interests in that section and is deserving of the hand of the lovely young woman whose future has been given to his care and protection. They will make their home at Violet.

Following the wedding ceremony a family dinner, to which many set at the festal board, was served and later in the evening the young couple left on a bridal trip and spent their honeymoon visiting in Bay St. Louis.

FAREWELL PARTY TO MISS ANABELLE STEELE.

Prior to her departure to Slidell, La., where she will in future reside with her family who are moving from Waveland to the Louisiana section, Miss Anabelle Steele was the recipient of a farewell dance and party Sunday night.

Friends gave the enjoyable affair at Uncle Charlie's Nite Club which was appropriately decorated for the occasion.

Attending were the younger set, school mates of the honoree, and included Misses Elsie Tudury, Margie Seuzeneau, Ernestine Flashpoller, Adelaide Heitzmann, Shelby Flashpoller, Elaine Mogabgab, Anna Mae Ploue, Vivian Villars, Frank Fagan, Charles Benigno, Leroy Nelson, Charles Dessomes, August Flashpoller, Jr., Herman Baxter, Hugh Moore, Mark Smith, Jack Ingram, Jack Seuzeneau, Sam Benigno, Frank Trapani, Eugene Mogabgab, Alton Erwin, James Arnold.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Laurent L. Kergosien, of Bay St. Louis, at the hospital at Hattiesburg, Miss., Sunday morning at an early hour, the first born to this popular young couple.

Mrs. Kergosien before her marriage last year was Miss Thelma Eaton, of Sumrall, Miss., a neice of Mrs. (Dr.) A. P. Smith, of this city, and a valued member of the faculty of Central School, Bay St. Louis.

Friends will learn with added interest both mother and child are doing exceedingly well, and in time will return to the Bay St. Louis home. The paternal grandparents are Dr. and Mrs. A. A. Kergosien. are Dr. and Mrs. A. A. Kergosien. The young lady has been given the name of Cecile Kinta Kergosien.

Another interesting item of the stork's visitation comes from New Orleans when another son—a third—brought additional sunshine to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fagan, the latter the former Miss Aline Rensen of Bay St. Louis, who resided with her relatives, Dr. and Mrs. A. P. Smith, and also related to Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Harrison.

Mr .and Mrs. Fagan are almost regular week-end visitors to Bay St. Louis and have a wide circle of well-wishers.

A gladsome message comes from Springfield, Mass., noting the birth of Harlow Ballard, Junior, August 25, 1937, to Mr. and Mrs. Harlow Ballard, the latter the former Miss Ethel Osoinach of Bay St. Louis. This is the third child born to the family, the two first girls. The very proud paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Osoinach, are at present visiting at the Ballard home and where they spent most of the summer.

Miss L. C. Del Bondio and Misses Marie E. Bertrand and Hazel Abbley entertained informally Sunday night at a supper-bridge the first of a series which Miss Del Bondio plans to give thru the winter season at hospitable "Blue Heaven." This will take the place of an enjoyable series of "500" at cards, further affirming the quotation—variety is the spice of life.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. K. W. Pepperdene entertained informally Sunday night at supper, complimenting Mr. and Mrs. Leonce Bonnecaze, who have returned to New Orleans following a summer spent where the waves wash the sands of South Beach.

Taking No Chances.

Teddy—Let him alone, Jimmy. He said he's sorry.

Jimmy (Pounding with both fists) —I'm going to make sure of it.

—Mr. and Mrs. George Anderson, who have been connected with the Stevenson Radio Electric Service since its foundation left during the week for Charlotte, N. C., where Mr. Anderson will work with the Norge Electric Co. Mrs. Anderson was formerly Miss Yvette Telhiard.

—Herman Bopp, young son of Chief Deputy Sheriff and Mrs. Francis J. Bopp, left here Friday for up state where the youth has entered Mississippi State College, continuing his studies from Tulane where he attended last year. He was accompanied by his father who made the trip.

—Miss Irmabelle Fahey, accompanied by her uncle, the Rev. Leo F. Fahey ,left Sunday night for San Antonio, Texas, where Miss Fahey has registered at the well-known college of Our Lady of the Lake, at that place. Father Fahey plans to remain and spend a while in the Alamo City.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fernstrom, former Bay St. Louis residents, have returned after a long absence during which time they visited various parts of Europe and enjoyed an extended stay in California. They are at present visiting Capt. and Mrs. Peairs and plan to again make Bay St. Louis their permanent home, preferring this section to the many they visited.

—Jerry Dickson, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Laurent Dickson, left the latter part of last week for Baton Rouge to resume his studies at Louisiana State University where he is now majoring in chemical engineering and gives much promise for a successful professional future. During the summer he attended the six-week course in national training at Tuscaloosa, Ala.

—Major W. A. McDonald, senior member firm of W. A. McDonald & Sons, is enjoying a deserved vacation and spending his time in Tennessee and North Mississippi, scenes of his childhood and of later years, visiting principally at Midleton, 70 miles east of Memphis, where he was reared. His trip covers a wide range, and visiting scenes and homes of former friends and acquaintances conjures a lot of old memories.

—Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Rugan and son, Ralph, after a residence of several years in Bay St. Louis, returned to New Orleans Thursday in which city they will reside in future. Graduating from St. Stanislaus this year and matriculating at Tulane, Mr. and Mrs. Rugan moved back to New Orleanrs in order to provide for more convenient facilities for their son and Mr. Rugan as well whose business is also in that city. Their friends regret to see them leave.

—G. E. Templet, carekeeper of the town clock in the belfry of the church of Our Lady of the Gulf, has built a scafford on the outside of the east face of the giant timepiece and replacing the hands that fell and repainting the Roman numerals that have faded with the passing of the years. The job is a responsble one, as Mr. Templet, will also work within the clock works, and require not only care and precaution for safety but skill and experience as well.

—Rev. and Mrs. J. E. Gray, residing at Port Gibson, Miss., are spending a vacation on the Mississippi Gulf Coast, dividing their time visiting relatives at Biloxi and Gulfport and with friends in Bay St. Louis. Rev. Gray was former pastor of the First Methodist Church here and they are warmly welcomed by many friends regardless of creed. An ardent disciple of Isaak Walton, he said the lure of the Coast fishing grounds were well nigh irresistible. No man and wife who served the local Methodist church here were more beloved.

—Miss Marion Becker, daughter of Mrs. Andy Becker and her late husband, left here last Friday for New Orleans where she entered as a novitiate of the Order of the Sisters of St. Joseph, professing her intentions of taking the veil and dedicating her life to the service of God and in the cause here below for which the order stands. Miss Becker is a native of Bay St. Louis and was educated in this city at St. Joseph Academy.

Correspondence Tells of Efforts and Surveys To Bring Gas to The Bay

with the efforts that have been made toward securing natural gas for Bay St. Louis."

The letter from Mr. J. P. Rogers, district manager United Gas System, Jackson, Miss., referred to in Mr. Haas' letter, (second paragraph) addressed to Mr. W. W. Black, manager Jackson (Miss.) Chamber of Commerce, follows in full.

This letter will give readers of The Sea Coast Echo and the public in general why natural gas cannot be brought into Bay St. Louis, and is here reproduced in full:

"Dear Mr. Black: I wish to acknowledge receipt of your letter of September 6th, together with correspondence between you and Mr. Haas of the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club, regarding natural gas for Bay St. Louis.

"Prior to the time the United Gas Public Service Company went out of the distribution business of natural gas, I made a survey of Bay St. Louis with the thought in mind of laying a pipe line from the end of my line at Gulfport to Bay St. Louis, and to build the distribution system therein. This work constituted quite an expenditure of funds and serious thought by myself and principals, and the conclusion was reached that due to the seasonal load and the crossing of the Bay that the business obtained from that city would not justify the expenditure, and, therefore, we dropped the idea. The Southwestern Gas & Electric company, who distributes gas in the coast towns and to whom I sell, was encouraged by ourselves to make a survey, which they have done, and they are of the same opinion that we are.

"Back in 1934 one of the members of the Louisiana Legislature (by the name of Neal, I believe) also made a survey and obtained a franchise from Bay St. Louis. As I understand it, he was never able to interest any financial house in backing him, due to the small amount of consumption and the seasonable load that Bay St. Louis offers, There is no manufacturing enterprise of any consequence in Bay St. Louis which would make it possible to justify the expenditure required.

"I am returning herewith the correspondence which occurred between you and Mr. Haas, and regret very much to advise you that it looks as though it is a hopeless case for Bay St. Louis."

This closes the second 'fight' made for natural gas for Bay St. Louis, the first made some few years ago by the Bay St. Louis Chamhber of Commerce at which time Mrs. M. Juden, the active and efficient secretary, made a most exhaustive campaign in the interest of the project.

The Echo wishes to commend the efforts of the Rotary Club. Nothing was left undone. President Haas and Secretary de Montluzin members gave much of their time, spent their own money. We must appreciate the public-spirited efforts of such type of citizenry.

ST. JOSEPH ACADEMY MOTHERS' CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS FOR YEAR

Mrs. A. G. Favre Re-Eelected to Presidency—Active Year Planned.

At the regular annual meeting of St. Joseph Academy Mothers' Club, held last Friday afternoon at the convent lounge room, officers for S. J. A. Mothers' Club, to serve for the ensuing year were elected.

Mrs. A. G. Favre, was unanimously re-elected president in recognition of the splendid work accomplished during the year ended. Mrs. Claud Kohler was elected vice president, Mrs. L. S. Elliott, secretary and Mrs. C. A. Gordon, treasurer, all active workers in the cause for which the club represents and with a most active membership.

It was planned to have a most active year and among the new innovations in the way of a benefit was the proposal and subsequent acceptance for a beauty pageant, to be presented on the evening of October 5. A more detailed article concerning the pageant appears alsewhere in this issue of The Echo.

It was also proposed and accepted that the annual Carnival King and Queen ball would be held during the week preceding Mardi Gras. This affair each year proves a feature of the gay season in Bay St. Louis and is looked for by anxious public.

"We have a most active club," said Mrs. Favre, the president, "and with the co-operation that is assured I see no reason for another year of much activity and every effort crowned with success. The public has been quick to respond to our appeals and I feel sure this co-operation and material support will be forthcoming this year as usual, possibly in greater and generous measure since economic conditions show a marked improvement.

FINDING WORK

Members of the CCC are finding private employment at a faster rate than since the corps was organized in 1933. In July, the last month for which figures are available 13,865 men accepted outside jobs. Robert Fechner, director says that employers interested in the qualifications of enrollees will be given every assistance by camp officials who are anxious to secure employment for the 89,000 men to be discharged during the fall months.
